INFORMATION AND INSTRUCTION.—The above form is provided by the Pendleton Commercial Association so that each household and resident will have prepared the information required by the Census Enumerator about every person at some time between April 15th and May 1st. If you have the above filled out, READY to give the Enumerator when he calls, it will assist in securing a full count for Pendleton. The questions which seem to be of purely a personal nature are TREATED IN CONFIDENCE by the Government, and are used only to arrive at totals for the entire country. It is necessary to give full co-operation to the Enumerator, as he has authority to compel answers.

Opposite "REMARKS" state if Survivor of Union or Confederate Army or Navy; if Blind (both eyes); of Deaf and Dumb.

If no one calls for this blank mail it to the Pendleton Commercial Association. For further information phone Main 114.

Thompson won the prize which was presented by Mrs. Nancy Johnson in a few appropriate words. While the judges were out awarding the prizes the audience was well entertained by Master Dewey Crimmins, who gave a humorous reading.

Rev. Mr. Kitt, pastor of the Freewater Congregational church, received two new members into the church on Sunday morning and in the afternoon baptized the two young ladies by immersion in the mill race just at the entrance to the Park grounds.

Mrs. R. E. Bean, son and daughter of Tekoa, Wash., arrived in the city yesterday afternoon to spend a few weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Sanderson.

Mrs. J. Schmidt and children, of Tekoa, Wash., arrived here on Saturday to join her husband who has lately bought out the Mitchell, Routh & Co. dry goods and grocery stock. They have rented the Richard Sheets house on Johnson street, while waiting for their house. Mr. and Mrs. Schmidt are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bradley of Ballou's.

Proven Eczema Cure.
Many eczema sufferers have failed so utterly with salves and other "discoveries" that even the assurance of the best physician or druggist cannot induce them to invest another dollar in any remedy.

It is to these discouraged sufferers in particular that we now offer, at only 25 cents, a trial bottle of the accepted standard eczema remedy, a simple wash of oil of wintergreen, thymal and glycerine, as compounded in D. D. D. Prescription.

Hundred of cures have convinced us and we know you can prove instantly with the first application that it takes away the itch at once. Tallman Drug Co.

SEEKS PRESIDENCY OF SOCIETY OF LETTERS

Paris.—There is a hot contest being carried on in Paris just now for the presidency of the Society of French Men of Letters. The actual president, M. Georges Lecomte, does not intend to seek re-election. The favorite candidates are M. Jules Bois and M. Rene Doumic.

Jules Bois is a powerful writer. He was engaged to be married to the great prima donna, Emma Calve. She broke off the engagement because he was too exacting about a marriage settlement. He has been acting as secretary of a Lafayette society founded in Paris by Flaring Gill, a brother-in-law of the late Cornelius Vanderbilt. He was then a struggling young writer and Mrs. Gill, who was a Miss Gwynne of Cincinnati, and a patroness of letters, helped and encouraged him.

Jules Bois is the grandson of Don Espana, who was private secretary of King Charles of Spain. His election to the presidency of the Society of Men of Letters is practically certain. This position is a stepping stone to the academy, and is therefore much coveted. As Rene Doumic is already an Academician electors are likely to give Mrs. Gill's protégé a chance of becoming an "Immortal."

Clackamas Gets Two More Weeks. Oregon City.—In order to have a complete census count for Clackamas county, Secretary Sawyer of the Commercial club telegraphed Census Supervisor Hendricks for additional time and in reply Mr. Hendricks granted until May 15 to complete the enumeration. This action was taken as a result of the fact that enumerators have taken less than 6000 names, while the population exceeds 7000. Arrangements for a canvass will be made at a meeting of the Commercial club.

"ST. ELMO" WILL PLAY HERE SUNDAY NIGHT

Manager Mitchell has definitely arranged for the appearance of the Belasco production, "St. Elmo," at the Oregon next Sunday night.

The story of St. Elmo has been read by the past and present generations until it has become a household story and when staged by the master genius of Mr. Belasco it has become one of the greatest sensations of the season and after a run of forty weeks in New York, three weeks each in Los Angeles and San Francisco, it is now on a tour through the great north-west.

The company of St. Elmo is a large and expensive one and representative in every way.

The list of plays which have been promised the cities giving St. Elmo liberal patronage are:

"Rose of the Rancho," so beautifully staged by Mr. Belasco.

"Sweet Kitty Bellairs."

"The Girl of the Golden West."

"The Eastward Way."

"Merely Mary Ann."

"The Warrens of Virginia," and many others equally attractive.

Charles E. Gunn, playing St. Elmo Murry in St. Elmo, is a western actor of intelligence and experience and more nearly typifies the St. Elmo of the story than any who have undertaken this role.

Mr. Gunn has a fine physique, a splendid voice and understands getting artistic results through the clever handling of a very difficult role.

Gerda Nelson, who supported Ada Rehan in her English tour and who has made a name for herself both in England and this country, is sharing leading honors with Mr. Gunn. Miss Nelson comes of an old and distinguished English family, whom she has married and mortified by becoming an actress. It has wounded the pride of these old aristocratic people that a daughter of the house of Nelson should have chosen such a career.

Miss Nelson, however, finds herself amply repaid in the hearty applause she merits and feels she has chosen well.

The Grand.

A special bill is on for the first half of the week, every act is a high class feature and there is plenty of fun from the opening until the exciting close of the show with the fight of the brutal Italian husband and wife's former lover in Christine Hill & Co.'s "Fate," a dramatic gem. From start to finish good things hold sway, for there is nothing of even a mediocre character to detract from the best.

If the one best act were to be selected with comedy as a basis then Shayne and King take away the honors. They are a Hebrew character team and by far the best ever seen here.

They present clean, refreshing comedy and their original dance brings out the screams. They can sing, too, and their parodies and original songs are great. Al Shayne possesses a remarkable falsetto voice and he brings down the house in his imitations of grand opera. These fellows are just naturally entertainers. They know how and one cannot get enough of them.

A dramatic treat is "Fate" by Christine Hill & Co. The scene is laid in an Italian fruit stand in Little Italy, New York, and the story is one of passionate love of a fair daughter of Italy. As Angelina, Christine Hill, who wrote the sketch from a story of real life, rises to great dramatic heights. She has a wonderful grasp of the real, living breathing character and there is intense silence in appreciation of her recital of the wrongs of her brutal husband when Antonia, her former lover, comes to claim her. In this character George W. Sharp plays with a feeling, his words teeming with the hatred of a wronged man. Duilg, the brutal husband, is portrayed by Francis Reynolds whose acting gives one a glimpse of the character in real life. It is an intense moment when the two men meet in deadly conflict.
